1. Scene-by-Scene Storyboard

Create a storyboard for a [duration] video about [topic].

For each scene (aim for 8-12 scenes):

Scene [#]:
• Duration: [seconds]
• Visual: [What appears on screen]
• Narration/dialogue: [What's said]
• Action: [What happens]
• Purpose: [Why this scene matters]

Example Scene:
Duration: 15 seconds
Visual: Office workspace, professional at desk looking frustrated at computer
Narration: "We've all been there—staring at a blank screen, trying to write learning objectives from scratch."
Action: Person types, deletes, types again
Purpose: Establish the problem/pain point

2. Video Script with Visual Cues

Write a video script for [topic] with visual direction.

Format:
[VISUAL: Description of what's on screen]
NARRATION: "What the voiceover says."

[VISUAL: Next scene]
NARRATION: "Next part of narration."

Include:
• Opening hook (grab attention in first 5 seconds)
• Clear structure (problem → solution → call to action)
• Visual variety (don't show same thing entire time)
• Timing cues (how long each visual stays on screen)
